Launch of information site “Japan for 2” targeted at foreigners visiting Japan ~Provides support for couples visiting Japan, from sightseeing to lodging reservation~

ALMEX Inc., (headquarters: Minato-ku, Tokyo, President and Representative Director: Shohei Mabuchi), part of USEN-NEXT group and managing “Loveinn Japan”, a site that introduces leisure hotels to foreigners visiting Japan, have launched an sightseeing/food and drink-related information site “Japan for 2”, aimed at foreign couples from Taiwan, Hong Kong and the U.S. who are visiting Japan.

■Forte① Articles written by “foreigner writers”

Writers who are foreigners write articles that include information on recommended sightseeing spots and restaurants for couples. They abundantly portray the charm of each spot that Japanese people may not be able to identify from their perspective.

■Forte② Before traveling mode and while traveling mode

The website not only includes information that users might need before traveling, but also information that they might require while they are traveling. Two search modes are available, “search by articles” and “search by map”, when searching for sightseeing spots, restaurants and leisure hotels. They can also register their favorite spots.

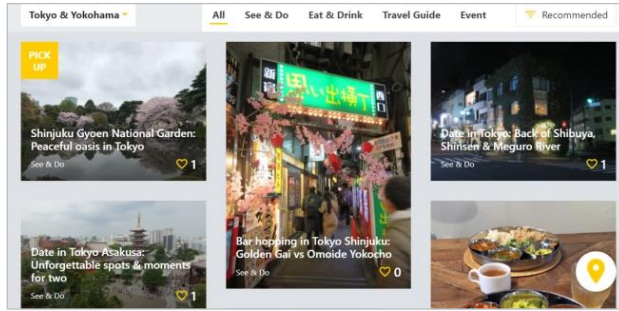

From now on, we will continue to work hard on providing information so that foreigners visiting Japan can enjoy their stay in Japan.
