From One Origin, We Will All See

OOLLSEE was established in Shizuoka, Japan, a traditional tea-growing region where many tea gardens have been left untended due to an aging population and a lack of successors.

We view these abandoned gardens as a unique resource. The tea trees have continued to grow naturally, deeply rooted in the land and shaped by years of seasonal changes.

---

We utilize the leaves, branches, seeds, and flowers from these trees, refining each element into modern, functional products.
